CSIR-NEERI Delhi Regional Centre is organising a Brainstorming Workshop on “Clean Air and Climate Resilience for the Indo-Gangetic Plains (IGP-CACR)” on 20 November 2026 at CSIR-NEERI Delhi Regional Centre, Naraina, New Delhi.

The workshop will bring together representatives from different ministries and CSIR laboratories/institutes, fostering multidisciplinary scientific discussions.

The deliberations will focus on airshed assessment, pollution hotspots, source diagnostics, health impacts, climate vulnerability, pollution mitigation strategies and AI-enabled decision support systems.

The workshop aims to identify priority research areas, leverage complementary institutional capabilities and develop a coordinated, evidence-based framework for actionable interventions, policy support and long-term climate resilience across the Indo-Gangetic Plains.
