About the Chief Guest...

Dr. R.R. Sonde

A Ph. D. from IIT-Bombay, Dr. Sonde joined Thermax Limited after an illustrious 25-year career with the Department of Atomic Energy. He then rose to the position of Executive Vice President-Research, Technology & Innovation at Thermax Limited. Dr. Sonde is currently working as Professor at Department of Chemical Engineering, Indian Institute of Technology Delhi. His involvement in Energy and Environment has led to development of different technologies which include newer clean coal technologies, heat pumping technologies, advance combustion systems, water and waste water technologies. The new areas of his research interests include solar energy systems, particularly solar thermal energy systems including optics, structural design, coatings, absorber design and controls system design. His research interests also include the development of high efficiency power conversion devices for low grade energy. Dr. Sonde is a Fellow of Indian National Academy of Engineering. He is on the board of National Board of Accreditation and is a Visiting Professor at the Indian Institute of Chemical Technology. He was awarded Dr. Homi Bhabha Gold Medal by the Prime Minister in 2006, for his outstanding contributions in the field of nuclear energy. Dr. Sonde was also a member of CSIR-NEERI Research Council during 2017-2019.
